Generosity and the explorers' spirit
When owners tell us they appoint their properties with every luxury they would expect if they were to go away, we know we're going to find generosity at every turn. Nowhere is this truer than Executive Holiday Rentals in the heart of Port Augusta.

There are three houses to choose from and all are centrally located. You might decide on Explorers, the four-bedroom family home with plenty of room (it is the one with the landmark sculptural tribute to the Exploring spirit out the front). Or the three-bedroom historic Squatters, which features a wonderful country kitchen. And for something different, Sunset is a contemporary home in a prestigious new precinct.

Colin and Lois Allchurch have included every conceivable gizmo, gadget and luxury that a guest could hope for. Just a few examples of such detail include Foxtel (even in some bedrooms), every imaginable cooking implement, deep comfortable sofas, huge TVs, free WiFi and brilliant outdoor entertaining facilities. Colin and Lois travel a lot for work, so they understand the needs of corporate guests as well as holidaymakers.

The idea here is that your home-away-from-home should be better than home. This philosophy is something no hotel or motel chain could compete with, which makes these Port Augusta homes a standout choice.
